NUMBER 2 – OFFICIAL LEGISLATION PDFS

DID YOU KNOW THAT

- Westlaw NZ now includes over 18,000 New Zealand Government PDF versions of legislation alongside Thomson Reuters' own detailed legislation content.
- Thomson Reuters' online legislation has long included detailed History Notes and Historical Text, which clearly show how provisions were worded prior to their amendment and make it easier and quicker to understand how the legislation has been amended at different points in time.
- Complementing this, the New Zealand Government PDFs provide the familiar Government "print" view of all assent and consolidated (post-amendment) versions of legislation from 3 September 2007. These are the same PDFs found on the legislation.govt.nz website. Those that display the New Zealand Coat of Arms on the first page are official. New legislation PDFs are added as they become available.

SEE FOR YOURSELF

Click on the "View all PDF versions" link at the top of any legislation document to see all the New Zealand Government PDF versions of that legislation, or to access Thomson Reuters' own PDF version which contains the latest consolidated view of the legislation.

WHY ARE HISTORIC VERSIONS SO USEFUL?

If you need to know what legislation looked like at a particular point of time, Westlaw NZ will provide you with the text of the relevant historic version along with details of amendments, and you will now also be able to print out a New Zealand Government PDF of that version of the legislation, all from a single platform.
